Title of the manuscript.....

Authors (in order of authorship):

The undersigned authors state that the article is original, has not been submitted for publication in other journals and has not yet been published either wholly or in part. They state that they are responsible for the research that they have designed and carried out; that they have participated in drafting and revising the manuscript submitted, whose contents they approve.

In the case of studies carried out on human beings, the authors confirm that the study was approved by the ethics committee and that the patients gave their informed consent.

They also state that the research reported in the paper was undertaken in compliance with the Helsinki Declaration and the International Principles governing research on animals. The authors declare that the article contains nothing that is unlawful, libellous, or which would, if published, constitute a breach of contract or of confidence or of commitment given to secrecy.

They agree to inform Edizioni FS in the form below of any conflict of interest that might arise, particularly any financial agreements they may have with pharmaceutical or biomedical firms whose products are pertinent to the subject matter dealt with in the manuscript.

They declare they have read the Privacy Policy and consent to the use of their personal data for publication purposes.

The authors declare to be aware that no addition/deletion/ or any change in the sequence of the authorship will be permissible at a later stage, without valid reasons and permission of the Editor. If the authorship is contested at any stage, the article will be either returned or will not be processed for publication till the issue is solved.

They accept that GIPMEL transfers to the site www.aipmel.it the data of the authors and the files of the manuscripts accepted in the format provided by the online submission system of the publisher. In accordance with the privacy policy, the author undertakes to give written consent to GIPML to make such a registration in the name and on behalf of the authors themselves.

The Author retains copyright, and the Press will publish a suitable acknowledgement of the same in the copyright line which appears on the article. GIPMEL applies the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 Unported License (CC BY) to all published articles. Under the CC BY, authors retain ownership of the copyright for their article, but authors allow anyone unrestricted use, distribution, and reproduction in any medium, provided the original work is properly cited. The Authors shall fully indemnify the Press against all and any loss, liability, damages, costs or expenses (including legal expenses) that the Press suffers or incurs as a result of, or in connection with, any breach by the Author of any of the warranties in this Licence or for other reasons upon the publication of the article.

Conflict of Interest Disclosure Form

The policy of the Giornale Italiano di Psicologia e Medicina del Lavoro is to guarantee fairness, objectivity and scientific rigour of its contents.

Authors must disclose to readers a real or apparent conflict of interest in the context of the subject of their article. This includes financial agreements or consultant relationships with organizations involved in the research. There is absolutely no intention of opposing the publication of papers by authors with a potential conflict of interest. Clarification of the latter situation is only necessary for readers, so they will have the means necessary to form their own judgment and determine whether or not the conflict of interest has led to a possible distortion both in the presentation and in the conclusions presented.

The corresponding author is requested to fill in and return the form to the Editors-in-Chiefs-Office on behalf of the listed authors.

Please note that a conflict of interest statement is published with each paper.

If any conflict exists, please define hereafter. If none, please insert a tick below:

All authors have no conflicts of interest

Otherwise, describe financial interest/arrangement with one or more organizations that could be perceived as a real or apparent conflict of interest in the context of the subject of this article):
